EARTHQUAKE DISASTER DEMANDS HUGE TOLL

TOWNS WRECKED AND MANY DEAD IN TIDAL WAVE

Vast Destruction Wrought in Parts of Chile by Earth Tremor.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Terrific Disturbance in Bed of Sea Causes Tidal Waves Which Wipe Out Cities

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 13.—Further earthquake shocks took place in the northern provinces today, adding to the terror of the population. Pestilence and famine are threatened among the thousands of homeless fugitives.

Owing to interruption of rail and telegraph communications the work of getting supplies into the devastated region is proceeding very slowly.

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 13.—One thousand or more are dead and many thousands homeless and in want as a result of the earthquake disaster in Chile.

In addition to heavy casualties of dead and injured at Copiapo and Coquimbo, it was reported that 500 were killed at Valparaiso and the surrounding district. Valparaiso was virtually destroyed and the survivors are in a critical condition. It seems certain that there have been casualties in other towns and villages around Copiapo to the south.

Already 24 bodies have been recovered at Coquimbo, where it is known there are 100 or more dead. At Charral a number were killed by falling houses.

It was earthquake and tidal wave combined that accounted for the vast destruction in the provinces of Antofagasta, Atacama and Coquimbo. The movement of the ocean is described as phenomenal. It gave evidence of a terrific disturbance in the bed of the Pacific itself. There must have been such a tearing at the bottom of the sea that immense quantities of water were sucked through, causing a tremendous recession of the waters along the Chilean coast.

Several times the ocean swept outward and came back in the great wave, flooding the seaports and in some instances sweeping away the front. The violent effects of the tidal waves were felt from Antofagasta on the north to Valdivia on the south, covering about 16 degrees of latitude or more than 1,200 miles.

All types of craft lying in the various harbors were swept on shore, wrecked, or left high and dry, and at scores of small ports wharves and quays were destroyed. Chilean naval vessels in the harbor at Talcahuano, about 300 miles south of Valparaiso, when they felt the force of the waters, slipped their cables and proceeded out to the open sea.

President Alessandri has ordered the various government departments to take all measures possible for the relief of the sufferers in the stricken districts, those most sorely afflicted lying between Coquimbo and Copiapo. The navy department has sent ships along the coast to aid in the work.

BUGGY HIT BY TRAIN

Napoleon, O., Nov. 13.—Charles Rohrs, 40, was killed by a train on a railroad crossing near Holgate. Rohrs was on his way home and had fallen asleep in his buggy. The buggy was carried for 200 feet and demolished. The horse escaped uninjured.

FLYER IS BADLY HURT

Washington, Nov. 13.—Lieutenant Commander Godfrey D. Chevalier, first naval aviator to make a landing on the airplane carrier Langley about three weeks ago and one of the senior flyers of the naval air service, crashed at Rock Haven, Va., near Norfolk, and was seriously injured.

FOUR KILLED BY BLAST

Corning, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Four men were killed and three injured as the result of the explosion of a locomotive boiler at Moreland, 13 miles from here. The locomotive was one of two attached to a southbound New York Central freight train. The boiler was thrown 400 feet ahead of the train. It landed on the rails and the head engine crashed into it.

SHIP SUBSIDY TO BE CENTER OF BIG FIGHT

Will Form Backbone of Legislative Program Starting Monday

FATE IS IN DOUBT

Vote in House Expected to Be Close—Opposition Grows in Senate.

Washington, Nov. 13.—So far as the house is concerned, ship subsidy will form the backbone of the legislative session, which begins next Monday.

The president is expected to address congress at a joint session Tuesday, or to send a message urging speed with the subsidy and supply bills, in order to avoid, if possible, an extra program of the special session, which begins next Monday.

Doubt as to the fate of the ship subsidy bill increased as members returned after the elections. Signs of growing opposition to the measure, especially in the senate, were not lacking. The vote in the house, it was predicted even in Republican quarters, would be close.

Many Democrats and some Republican leaders are asserting privately that the bill will not be sent through the senate by March 4. The crash of appropriation and other bills, with the certainty of bitter and determined opposition even to the possible extent of a filibuster, was said to make the ship bill a most uncertain feature in the senate.

Republican leaders are preparing to put pressure behind the appropriation bills to clean them up by March 4. The budget will be submitted early in December, at latest. It has been "cut to the bone," Republican leaders said, predicting that the reductions would make easier the passage of the annual bills, stripped of legislation as they must be under the new senate and house rules.

The regular appropriation bills can not be taken up in the house until December, and precedence will be given the ship subsidy measure at the special session. The Librarian loan remains the senate's unfinished business and may be taken up during opening week. The Dyer anti-lynching bill, under a Republican steering committee decision, is to come up next in the senate, but is not to be pressed to the extent of blocking appropriation and other important bills, leaders said.

Several investigations, adjourned over election, are to be resumed, including the senate inquiry into gasoline and oil prices. Impeachment charges of Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota, against Attorney General Daugherty are on the house judiciary committee's calendar for hearing.

A start on farm credit legislation is to be made by the farm bloc during the short session. Personal credit proposals of several bills already introduced are to be composed and an effort made to work out a reform measure to afford short time loans to farmers.

Attica, O., Nov. 13.—Helen S. Smith, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Smith, was burned to death while playing with matches. She was one of 13 children.

Russian Official Admits Aim of His Fellow Countrymen Not Reached—Sees Possibility of Another Great War in European Situation.

Moscow, Nov. 13.—Hope for a world revolution, for which the Bolsheviks have been striving ever since they came into power, has dwindled, it was admitted today by Georges Tchitcherine, peoples' commissar for foreign affairs in the soviet government.

Tchitcherine was asked to discuss the probable effect of the United States election upon Russian-American relations, but declined to do so. He said, however, that he believed the new American tariff would help Russia by directing European exports to Russia instead of to the United States.

"The evacuation of Vladivostok by the Japanese may affect Russo-American relations because it removes one of the geographic obstacles to American trade with Russia and Siberia," said Tchitcherine. Discussing the Near

Women to Control British Election Politicians Say

Preponderance of Women Voters Expected to Turn Tide of Wednesday's Parliamentary Election in England—Both Sides Seek to Get Good Vote.

London, Nov. 13.—Wednesday's parliamentary contest will be a "women's election" it was generally agreed by political experts today. Because of the preponderance of woman voters over the men it is admitted that the women can turn the tide if only eighty per cent of them vote.

As the campaign draws to its close leaders on both sides are concentrating their efforts to get all voters—both male and female—to turn out Wednesday. Despite the importance of the issues involved the voters are showing unexpected apathy.

Premier Andrew Bonar Law returned to his old home town of Glasgow today for a final appeal to his constituents. The premier is standing for election on the Tory ticket from the central division of Glasgow.

Former Premier Lloyd George continued his tour of his homeland Wales, appealing to his fellow countrymen to support his candidates. Lloyd George is standing for election at Carnarvon, Wales, where his fellow townsmen refused to put up any candidate against him.

Former Premier H. H. Asquith who is leading one faction of the Liberal party has become active and is delivering speeches today in behalf of the candidates on the "Asquith Liberal" ticket.

An especial appeal to the women to support the Lloyd George Liberal candidates is being made by Mrs. Lloyd George—or Dame Margaret Lloyd George, to use her title—who accompanied her husband to Wales.

ESTABLISH DATE OF CONFERENCE IN NEAR EAST

Greco-Turkish Peace Parley Scheduled to Open on November 20.

ALLIED ENVOYS MEET

Entire Christian Population of Large Towns Flee Before the Turks

Paris, Nov. 13.—The French foreign office announced that the Greco-Turkish peace conference to be held at Lausanne had been tentatively set for "not later than Nov. 20."

Originally the date set for the convening of the conference was Nov. 13, but the British government desired a postponement. It was said that the British are arguing for a still later date than Nov. 20, but the French government can not see why a week's postponement should not be ample.

The same uncertainty that characterizes the peace conference still clouds the proposed preliminary meeting between the representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy. The British desire a sort of interallied conference to precede the Lausanne gathering, while M. Poincare, the French premier, thinks simple "conversations" will be adequate. He has suggested that he can see and talk to Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, while Lord Curzon is passing through Paris on his way to Lausanne.

General Harrington, in charge of the British forces here, is urging his home government to hasten the peace conference as the best means of avoiding an open rupture with the Turks.

Harrington said he believes that if the Turks can be held in leash until the Lausanne meeting begins, the danger of hostilities will be avoided.

Reports reaching Constantinople show that the entire Christian population of Sivas, Angora, Cesarea, Konia and other large centers in Asia Minor are in panicky flight towards the shores of the Mediterranean and Black seas.

Samsun, in the vilayet of Trebizond, on the Black sea, has 10,000 of its own refugees, and 40,000 others are reported headed for that port in quest of ships to take them out of the country. Along every road and in every mountain pass are long winding serpentine columns of men, women and children, goading along sleepy oxen pulling wagon loads of their worldly goods. People are abandoning their homes, farms and everything in their eagerness to put the greatest possible distance between themselves and the Turks.

PREDICT SOLDIER BONUS BILL WILL BE MADE INTO LAW

American Legion Officials Make Known Tabulations of Recent Election.

Washington, Nov. 13.—A soldiers' bonus bill, acceptable alike to the veteran and to the country, will be enacted into law by the 68th Congress, American legion officials declared here today in making public tabulations showing overwhelming majorities in both houses in favor of the compensation legislation.

The recent election, according to John T. Taylor, vice chairman of the legion's national legislative committee, was a "stupendous victory" for the ex-soldiers.

"Viewed from a non-partisan angle," he said, "the result clearly demonstrates that the sentiment of the country is behind this legislation for veterans of the World War. The great mass of the people, keenly aroused at the hypocrisy displayed by their senators and congressmen voting against their expressed wishes, and showed this by sending the U. S. faithful back to private life."

HUNDRED FAMILIES HOMELESS BY FIRES

New York, Nov. 13.—One hundred families were driven from their homes by three tenement house fires in thickly congested districts early today. One fire on the west side was marked by thrilling rescue of 20 women and children who were carried down ladders to safety by firemen.

Thirty two families fled in terror when a blaze was discovered on the roof of the six story house on the lower east side.

Fire which broke out in a laundry in the tenement house section downtown forced more than 200 persons—members of 48 families—from their homes.

WOULD ABOLISH SENIORITY RULE IN THE SENATE

Senator McCormick Urges That Action in Letter to Lodge.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Abolition of the senate's seniority rule, by which the chairmanship of a committee goes to the member with the longest continuous service thereon, is suggested by Senator McCormick, Illinois, chairman of the Republican senatorial committee, in a letter to Senator Lodge, the Republican leader.

The letter also urged that the steering committee, of which Mr. McCormick is a member, be made representative of all sections and thought on the Republican side and disclosed that Senator McCormick had discussed the question with Senator Curtis of Kansas, assistant Republican leader, and others.

Senator McCormick said the "the Republican conference and the Republican steering committee owe it to the country to put aside the rule, just as the conference owes it to the country to make provision for the selection of a truly representative steering committee."

Notice already has come from senators of the "irregular" Republican group, that they intend to fight the seniority rule.

VACCINATION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN UPHOLD BY COURT

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Supreme Court of the United States today upheld the validity of legislation and city ordinances which compel the vaccination of children against disease as a school entrance requirement.

The decision was handed down in the case of Rosalyn Zucht, a high school girl of San Antonio, Texas, who had sued health authorities of city for damages because they barred her from school following her refusal to submit to vaccination.

The case attracted nation-wide attention.

BELLAMY STORER DIES

Cincinnati, Nov. 13.—A cablegram announcing the death Sunday night in Paris of Bellamy Storer, former well known Cincinnati and diplomat was received here today. The message included no details, but it is known that Mr. Storer had been ill for several months following a paralytic stroke. His wife, Maria Longworth Storer, aunt of Congressman Nicholas Longworth, was with him at the time, the Storer's having made their home in Paris since their last visit to the United States three years ago.

SLAYER ESCAPES

Columbus, Nov. 13.—William Edgar Jones, 29, negro veteran, was slain in cold blood while clothed in the khaki uniform he wore overseas. His slayer, said to be wanted for a previous shooting, is at large. Motive for the murder, police say, was a quarrel over a sandwich.

MORE MYSTERY INJECTED INTO PREACHER CASE

Sensational Conflict in Testimony Develops in Hall-Mills Probe

STORY IS DENIED

Mrs. Gibson's Account of Slaying of Pastor and Girl is Attacked.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 13.—A sensational conflict in testimony developed today in the investigation of the murder of Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist and the beautiful choir singer, Mrs. James Mills.

Mrs. Nellie Low Russell, a negro, living near Mrs. Jane Gibson, self-claimed eye witness of the tragedy, reiterated her story that Mrs. Gibson was calling at her home at the hour on the night of Sept. 14, when Mrs. Gibson claimed to have seen "the woman in gray and a man companion at the scene of the crime and heard shooting."

Mrs. Russell's story told in affidavit form has been turned over to Deputy Attorney General Wilbur A. Mott by Timothy N. Pfeiffer, counsel for Mrs. Hall, the widow. It is a direct challenge to the truth of Mrs. Gibson's story and if it is proved true will deepen the mystery which already has baffled the detectives for more than eight weeks.

Mrs. Russell said that about 3:45 o'clock on the night of September 14, she was preparing to go to bed and was winding her alarm clock when she heard a dog barking and, upon going to the door, saw Mrs. Gibson. She said that they sat down and talked for about 15 minutes, Mrs. Gibson telling of the theft of her dog. Mrs. Gibson, according to the affidavit, blamed a Hungarian man for taking the dog and told of going to the Hungarian's home where she seized the animal by force. She said the Hungarian would have her arrested and wanted to talk to Mr. Russell about it.

Mrs. Russell said she accompanied Mrs. Gibson to the latter's home and when she returned it was nearly 11 o'clock. A short time ago, Mrs. Russell added she told her story to John Sylvester, Patrick Thornton and Lewis Saphy.

The county authorities have discarded entirely the wild story told by Mrs. Anna Hanton, who said she had been retained by Mrs. Mills to clean up the house on the old Phillips farm where the murders were committed. According to Mrs. Hanton's story Mrs. Mills posed as "a Mrs. Hall." Mrs. Hanton had said she was in the Phillips farm house on the night of September 14, when she saw Mrs. Mills and Dr. Hall kidnapped by three men and a woman and carried off. Detectives have proved the story unfounded.

Mrs. Gibson refused to see reporters when they called at her home to question her regarding Mrs. Russell's affidavit. One of the state troopers guarding the Gibson home volunteered to take a copy of the affidavit to show to Mrs. Gibson. He returned a short time later saying that Mrs. Gibson read it and laughed but made no comment.

JUDGE ALLEN WOULD OUTLAW WAR; THINKS SUPPORT IS SURE

Christians Would Back Such a Movement Avers New Justice.

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Supreme Judge-elect Florence E. Allen, speaking at First Congregational church here, said that "until mankind makes the moral declaration that war is a crime, nations will continue to be plunged into conflict."

"We have a law which makes murder a crime," said Miss Allen. "If you or I kill a man we are punished. Yet, officially, we kill thousands of men, it is no crime. We have laws covering the conduct of war. We must not kill women. We must use only certain types of weapons and ammunition. Yet we have absolutely no law which says that war is a crime."

"A great many persons advance the assertion that enough force would not be available to enforce a law making war a crime," she continued. "The great body of Christian peoples, carrying out the doctrines of Christ, would be an invincible enforcement power behind a law forbidding war."

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Supreme Court of the United States today upheld the validity of legislation and city ordinances which compel the vaccination of children against disease as a school entrance requirement.

The decision was handed down in the case of Rosalyn Zucht, a high school girl of San Antonio, Texas, who had sued health authorities of her city for damages because they barred her from school following her refusal to submit to vaccination.

The case attracted nationwide attention.

MORE MYSTERY INJECTED INTO PREACHER CASE

Sensational Conflict in Testimony Develops in Hall-Mills Probe

STORY IS DENIED

Mrs. Gibson's Account of Slaying of Pastor and Girl is Attacked.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Nov. 13.—A sensational conflict in testimony developed today in the investigation of the murder of Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist and the beautiful choir singer, Mrs. James Mills.

Mrs. Nellie Low Russell, a negress, living near Mrs. Jane Gibson, self-called eye witness of the tragedy, reiterated her story that Mrs. Gibson was calling at her home at the hour on the night of Sept. 14, when Mrs. Gibson claimed to have seen "the woman in gray and a man companion at the scene of the crime and heard shooting."

Mrs. Russell's story told in affidavit form, has been turned over to Deputy Attorney General Wilbur A. Mott by Timothy N. Pfeiffer, counsel for Mrs. Hall. The widow. It is a direct challenge to the truth of Mrs. Gibson's story and if it is proved true will deepen the mystery which already has baffled the detectives for more than eight weeks.

Mrs. Russell said that about 9:45 o'clock on the night of September 14, she was preparing to go to bed and was winding her alarm clock when she heard a dog barking and, upon going to the door, saw Mrs. Gibson. She said that they sat down and talked for about 15 minutes, Mrs. Gibson telling of the theft of her dog. Mrs. Gibson, according to the affidavit, blamed a Hungarian man for taking the dog and told of going to the Hungarian's home where she seized the animal by force. She said the Hungarian would have her arrested and wanted to talk to Mr. Russell about it.

Mrs. Russell said she accompanied Mrs. Gibson to the latter's home and when she returned it was nearly 11 o'clock. A short time ago, Mrs. Russell added she told her story to John Sylvester, Patrick Thornton and Lewis Saphy.

The county authorities have discarded entirely the wild story told by Mrs. Anna Hanton, who said she had been retained by Mrs. Mills to clean up the house on the old Phillips farm where the murders were committed. According to Mrs. Hanton's story, Mrs. Mills posed as "a Mrs. Hall." Mrs. Hanton had said she was in the Phillips farm house on the night of September 14, when she saw Mrs. Mills and Dr. Hall kidnapped by three men and a woman and carried off. Detectives have proved the story unfounded.

Mrs. Gibson refused to see reporters when they called at her home to question her regarding Mrs. Russell's affidavit. One of the state troopers guarding the Gibson home volunteered to take a copy of the affidavit to show to Mrs. Gibson. He returned a short time later saying that Mrs. Gibson read it and laughed but made no comment.

JUDGE ALLEN WOULD OUTLAW WAR; THINKS SUPPORT IS SURE

Christians Would Back Such a Movement Avers New Justice.

Columbus, Nov. 13.—Supreme Judge-elect Florence E. Allen, speaking at First Congregational church here, said that "until mankind makes the moral declaration that war is a crime, nations will continue to be plunged into conflict."

"We have a law which makes murder a crime," said Miss Allen. "If you or I kill a man we are punished. Yet if, officially, we kill thousands of men, it is no crime. We have laws covering the conduct of war. We must not kill women. We must use only certain types of weapons and ammunition. Yet we have absolutely no law which says that war is a crime."

"A great many persons advance the assertion that enough force would not be available to enforce a law making war a crime," she continued. "The great body of Christian peoples, carrying out the doctrines of Christ, would be an invincible enforcement power behind a law forbidding war."

This will finish about Wednesday when the all-age derby will start. There are both cash prizes and cups.

THOMAS C. HAYDOCK OF NEW BURLINGTON DIES EARLY SUNDAY

Thomas C. Haydock, 75, life-long resident of New Burlington and retired merchant of that village, died suddenly at his home there Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, death being due to heart trouble.

Mr. Haydock had appeared in his usual health when he arose Sunday morning and had walked downtown. Returning he sat down and complained of not feeling well. Shortly afterward he was discovered dead, sitting in his chair.

Mr. Haydock was born in New Burlington, April 15, 1847, the son of James and Elizabeth Haydock, Greene County pioneers. He had spent all of his life in the village and until three years ago, when he retired from active business he had conducted a shoe store there.

During the Civil War, Mr. Haydock was a member of the 128th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, serving through that conflict. Afterwards he was a member of the G. A. R. Post at Spring Valley, until that Post was disbanded. He was also a Master Mason of New Burlington Lodge, No. 574, F. and A. M. and a trustee of that organization, and was formerly a Scottish Rite Mason.

Mr. Haydock was twice married. His second marriage, to Miss Susanne Moss, took place more than 40 years ago and she survives him. There is also one son, T. C. Haydock Jr., of New Burlington, and two sons, James and Chester Haydock and a daughter, Mrs. Edward Shidaker, all of near New Burlington, surviving by his second marriage. He also leaves a brother, John of New Burlington and two sisters, Mrs. A. H. Harlan of New Burlington and Mrs. Flora Sellers of Miami, Florida.

Funeral services will be held at the M. E. Church in New Burlington, Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock, and the Masons will also conduct their ritual. Burial will be made in Miami Cemetery, Corwin.

Market Review

The price structure is slowly regaining its balance.

This is the inference to be drawn from the spirited advance in cotton, the continued strength in wool, and the rise in grains, not to mention other farm products. All who understand the basic importance of agriculture in the nation's life deplore the entire want of harmony between farm prices and those of manufactured products, resulting in virtual prostration of the rural population. It required no prophet to point out that, if the country was to enjoy prosperity, prices on principal commodities must come into alignment, and that if retail prices and wages maintained their level or advanced products of the farm must sell substantially higher.

The present tendency in farm prices comes unmistakably in obedience to economic law. How far the movement will extend is problematical. For the country's good it should continue until it brings at least a 25 per cent advance in many farm products. Manufacturers and distributors, for their part, must resist the temptation to raise prices correspondingly and labor to strike for higher wages. By yielding they merely restore the same glaring inequities and pave the way for another period of acute industrial depression.

When the American wage earner is working full time at good wages, he can afford to pay reasonable prices for his meat and produce. The fact that corn can be fed with profit will help all grains, despite the adverse effect of European unsettlement upon the export market for this country's surplus.

When farm product values move up, the farmer will resume his buying of all commodities from sledge hammers to diamonds. The big mail order houses report substantial increase in business over last year. Some are even buying luxuries although they are comparatively few in number. There is a certain minimum of consumption on the farm, as elsewhere. As regards manufactured articles and foodstuffs it is below that of the city dweller. Now even the farmer is finding that he cannot postpone necessary purchases. Good crops at better prices are providing some ready money for his shopping.

The grain futures law became effective November 1. The markets at Chicago, Milwaukee, Los Angeles, and San Francisco went on as usual under authority of the secretary of Agriculture as provided in the law. The attitude of several grain exchanges remained in doubt as the month began.

AMERICAN LEGION DEFEATS VISITORS

Displaying the best offensive power and defensive tactics shown this season, indicative of the last week's coaching at the hands of that veteran mentor, George Baldner, the American Legion football team defeated the M. W. A. Club of Trotwood at Washington St. Park Sunday afternoon, 20 to 7.

An intercepted pass by Parks Walker on the 50-yard line in the second quarter, with which he raced for a touchdown, provided the only scoring punch the visitors displayed. Before and after the fluke touchdown, the Trotwood gang could do nothing with the forward wall of the locals resulting in forward passes that were seldom successful.

It was a rejuvenated and re-enforced Legion eleven that took the field Sunday. The line presented was impregnable while the backfield performed nobly in spite of the absence of Fuller, who was unable to be present. The new backfield was composed of Leahey at quarterback, Owens and Fisher at the halves and Wilson at full back. Wilson and Fisher, who worked together on Central High School teams several years ago, displayed their old time offensive power, while Owens the speed merchant circled ends at will.

Xenia was assumed the aggressive at the start of the combat. Xenia received on her own 42, and Wilson and Owens made three. Owens then circled end for 17 yards and a first down. Fisher added four and Wilson 10 for another first down. Leahey, Wilson, Fisher and Owens made 14 yards in four tries, for another first down. Fisher made one and Wilson was stopped. Fisher covered a fumble for a loss and a pass grounded, the ball going to Trotwood on the visitor's 14. Puterbaugh made four and Tanner was stopped. Wilson intercepted a Trotwood pass on the visitor's 26. Owens made four and Fisher six for first down. Owens made six more, and Beals recovered a fumble for Xenia on the next play. Owens then circled left end for eight yards and a first down, and Wilson scored in two punches at the line. An attempted forward pass to add the point was blocked.

Baker's long touchdown jaunt in the second quarter, and Tanner had place kicked the goal. Xenia obtained the lead again late in the same quarter. Xenia received on the 40 and Owens, Fisher, Wilson and Leahey tore holes in the visiting line for gains of five and six yards for two first downs. Owens then circled left end for 20 yards to the ten, and Fisher juggled the oval over on the fourth attempt. Walker drop kicked the extra point that gave Xenia 13 to 7 lead as the half ended.

Xenia kicked off to open the second half, and Fisher intercepted a visiting pass on the 50. Unable to gain, Fisher punted 40 yards off-sides. On the first play Wilson intercepted a pass, and Owens then charged the line for the third touchdown. Walker again kicked the goal. Trotwood received again as the quarter ended. A Xenia fumble gave the visitors possession of the oval on the 50, and Xenia was penalized 15-yards for holding but the visitors could not gain and punted. The rest of the period was featured by a 30-yard run by Walker for Xenia.

As the game came to a close Fisher missed an attempted drop kick from the 40-yard line. The visitors attempted five passes in the last half and completed but one. Next Sunday the Legion team will play the Osborn Indians at Washington St. The lineup and summary:

EVANGELIST WILL APPEAR AT CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The Rev. "Bud" Robinson, of Pasadena, California, evangelist of world wide reputation, will appear at the Church of the Nazarene in this city Tuesday and Wednesday evenings November 14 and 15, according to the announcement of the Rev. Frank Watkin, pastor of that church.

The Rev. Mr. Robinson will give the story of his life, how, though born in the Kentucky mountains of illiterate parents, and unable to read until twenty one years of age, he gained his education, and educated 63 ministers, spending $50,000 on them. He will also give his hospital experiences dealing with his doctrine of Divine Healing.

There is such a demand for the Rev. Mr. Robinson, according to advance reports, that his dates are now taken as far as three years in advance. He quotes one-fifth of the Bible by heart, and tells many thrilling experiences of his work.

CANCELS ENGAGEMENTS

Youngstown, O., Nov. 13.—Inquiry at the home of John H. Clark, former justice of the United States supreme court, regarding reports that he was seriously ill, brought the statement that on account of an indisposition he had canceled several speaking engagements, but that his condition was very far from being serious, and he believed a few weeks' rest would restore him to his usual health.

Miss Harloff is Elated Over 25 lbs. Gain

People who have suffered until they have become discouraged and out of heart should gain new hope by the experience of Miss Ida Harloff, 1823 Chase St., Toledo, O., who declares: "I have gained twenty-five pounds by taking Tanlac and am now as strong, well and happy as if I had never been sick a day."

"I had suffered from indigestion and poor circulation for a year or more and when my father started me on Tanlac I scarcely had strength to put one foot in front of the other. I was so thin and frail the folks at home were all uneasy about my health and, to tell the truth, I was scared nearly out of my wits, for I thought I would never get well. "But since taking Tanlac my nerves are normal, my stomach in fine condition, and my health as good as I could ask it to be. Tanlac has my highest praise."

THE NEW CONGRESS AFTER NEXT MARCH 4th.

Last Tuesday's elections placed control of legislation by the Sixty-eighth Congress squarely in the lap of the Farm Bloc. The Administration margin in the House will be slender enough to enable the Middle Western agricultural group to hold the balance of power. In the Senate, the Republican insurgent group, kept in check solely by the Administration majority of twenty-four, will be able to swing almost any vote it pleases.

Returns on congressional contests came in slowly and the voting was so nearly even in many districts the actual status of the two major parties in the House of Representatives will not be fixed definitely for several days. There was reason to believe, however, the Republican margin would prove to be approximately fifteen. The latest return indicated certain election of 209 Republicans and 198 Democrats. The number necessary for a majority is 218.

Senator LaFollette with a hand-picked delegation of eleven House members from Wisconsin could wield a broad power there. Besides the House insurgents have many recruits from other Middle Western States.

Defeat of Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, author of the prohibition enforcement law, would give that chairmanship to a "wet." Representative Graham, of Pennsylvania, under the rule of seniority, but would not alter the aridity of the committee. Nor do the "wets" gain a seat through Volstead's defeat, his conqueror being a minister and "dry."

SENSE IN CALIFORNIA.

In California, where the voters took action on an amazing mass of literature at the polls, including thirty measures assumed to affect the public weal, at least one measure was singled out justly for defeat and quashed by a victory of reasoning minds over the utterly irrational and the illogically emotional. That was the bill which would have forbidden vivisection.

Of course, the universities and medical schools, for the sake of scientific truth and human welfare, stood out against the bill. They pointed out that if it went through, work for the control of orchard pests must stop, the battle against anthrax, hog cholera and other livestock diseases must cease, cows must not be tested to save babies from tuberculosis, smallpox vaccine and diphtheria antitoxin could not be manufactured. The lives of human beings would be set at a value less than that of guinea pigs and rabbits.

The issue has been made clear to the intelligent majority, and a smashing rebuke has been dealt the benighted medievalists who believed that they had made the sun of scientific truth stand still. The mischief of the veto on animal experimentation was realized, and medical research has received the public sanction for the public good. The object lesson of California ought not to be lost in other States, where the anti-vivisectionists, though they may not get their printed measures into the hands of voters at the polls, are forever nefariously active with the poison gas of their propaganda and their unscrupulous misrepresentation of the motives of all who oppose them.—Public Ledger.

MALES TOO DOMINANT, MRS. CATT THINKS.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, who represents America in the congress of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance to be held in Rome next spring, declared in an interview with your correspondent that Europe is backsliding under male domination after woman's brief post-war ascendancy.

A renaissance of the "marry-'em-early, treat-'em-rough" spirit is manifesting itself, but Mrs. Catt believes the reaction to be momentary and unimportant.

"While the world advances," she said, "just after the revolutionary period and gave women rights they had never asked, the women still do not appreciate the tide which carried them beyond their own education and desires, and it is natural they are finding the level warranted by their own self-consciousness."

She attributes the world-wide reaction against feminism also to the fact that women throughout Europe are so poverty-stricken and harassed by the struggle for food that they have no time to think of or care for their rights, and to their disillusionment over the revolutionary movements in Russia, Hungary and Germany, and over peaceable means of obtaining justice.

Mrs. Catt although believing the women's movement to be a factor in international peace, confesses that the whole international women's organization is disrupted by interstate hatreds arising from peace arrangements, with the women of the various countries unwilling to sink their own country's interests.

Mrs. Catt on her present tour is visiting and speaking in Rome, Budapest, Vienna, Berlin, Paris and London in an effort to marshal the National Committees for the Rome conference, the program of which includes ways to widen the rights of women throughout Europe and re-establish international solidarity.

WOULD FIX MARK AT 3000 TO DOLLAR.

The report of the experts who have been investigating economic conditions in Germany, Prof. Keynes, Brand, Jenks and Cassel, advocates a two years' moratorium from reparations, payments in cash or kind, and stabilization of the mark on the basis of 3000 to 3500 marks to the dollar by utilizing the Reichsbank's gold reserve. The report contends the financial problem cannot be solved unless the mark is stabilized, and that would be impossible without a moratorium.

The moratorium might need to be extended, and payments should not be resumed until Germany is able to discharge them from a real budget surplus, which the experts think may be attainable in two years. Thus stabilization would depend for success not on a foreign loan but on development of the conditions of production and final settlement of the reparations problem.

They consider their plans would be facilitated if in the meantime negotiations were started with a consortium of bankers to support stabilization by modest credits, and also that a foreign loan cannot be expected until the reparations problem is finally settled.

They point out that on the basis of 3500 marks to the dollar the Reichsbank's gold would be about twice the value of the note issue, and that this is an unprecedented situation, as no other currency has fallen into such a state, with so great a potential support unutilized.

The German proposals delivered to M. Barthou, president of the Allied Reparations Commission, although the text is withheld, are generally believed to be strongly influenced by the findings of the committee of experts.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

Mr. "Dick" Nesbit who has been enjoying a six weeks' vacation from his travels in the Northwest, left yesterday morning for his field of labor as salesman for the Kahn Store Company, of Hamilton.

The Xenia High School team will play a return game with Troy tomorrow afternoon at Xenia. In the evening the football team with the aid of several enthusiastic high school girls have arranged to give the Troy team and rooters a reception and dance at the K. of P. Hall. Col. "Ike" Cummins is once more back on his native heath, glad to get "home" again and glad are his friends to have him back. "Ike" was the Republican candidate for Congress in his district in Texas, but hadn't time to vote himself and hasn't heard whether elected or not. Jimmie Carlos met with a painful accident today when engaged in a game of football. In the struggle he suffered a fracture of his shoulder blade.

TARR APPLICATIONS

One of the very best treatments for a stubborn case of dandruff is a tar application. Some beauty shops sell tar preparations in bottles all ready to be applied to the scalp. If you can get these you will find them convenient and not very expensive. If you cannot however, you can fix the tar for yourself.

Buy a little bit of just ordinary black sticky tar. One woman I know gets it from a builder and roofer, though most drug stores will carry it in some usable form. Heat a few ounces of olive oil, as much as will almost fill the bottle you decide to use for tar. Add the tar to the hot oil and stir with a small stick until it melts and blends. I can't give you exact proportions, so much depends on the thickness or stickiness of the tar that you've bought. The result will be a black looking mass of about the consistency of thick syrup.

This should be kept and used as needed. When ready for the shampoo, pour a little tar mixture into a warm saucer and dip into it an old toothbrush. Part the hair in another place a few inches away and rub again. Do this until you have completely covered your scalp with the tar preparation. It will wash off because you have used only a small amount of tar to a large amount of olive oil. These proportions are I should say, from one eight to one quarter as much tar as oil.

When the scalp is thoroughly covered let the tar stay on for about ten minutes. Then begin to wash, using very hot water and good soap. Castile or coconut oil soap is always best and particularly good if melted to a liquid. Use the soap several times. Rinse well.

Bobbie—It is quite a common occurrence to have the ends of the hair dry up and split after a summer's exposure to strong sunshine. Braid the hair in many small braids and then ruff out the ends by loosening the plaits. Clip or singe these broken ends. Repeat this procedure every week until you have finally caught most of them.

Tomorrow--Answered Letters.

Chillicothe, O., Nov. 13.—Two hundred and forty-seven students at the vocational school here, who several days ago left classes in protest against their rent being increased from $12 to $22 a month and other alleged abuses, called off their strike, following a meeting at which officials of the veterans' bureau from Washington heard their protest and finally effected an agreement.

CATHOLIC TASTE.

It's fortunate that people differ, and don't agree in things they like; Pete likes his bitters somewhat stiffer than would appeal to Rube or Mike. Although it's sometimes broadly hinted that Old Sleuth tales are a disgrace, if only highbrow stuff were printed, this world would be a sad old place. I'm oft denounced for reading fiction of low degree, of no good aim, that has no charm of style or diction, or moral worth a tinker's blame. And yet I read the stately sages, I wade through volumes large and thick, until I weary of their pages, and turn to something with a kick. I walk a while with smooth detectives, with Carter, Cleek or Sherlock Holmes, and find in them the right correctives for staleness brought by heavy tomes. A little while their graft I follow, along the trail of crime I creep, but soon I find such fiction hollow, and turn to something wise and deep. And thus my appetite grows keener for every literary meal; how good is roast beef after wiener! How fine hot dog when tired of veal! All books are by some critics smitten, some yearn for gems and some for junk; my taste embraces all that's written, the wood and bad, the great and punk.

Today's Talk

The Ploughman

The greatest realization that any human can come to is that he is primarily a servant.

Through service alone are men Even the selfish man has to render raised to usefulness and eminence, and direct service. But only as it is given the touch of unselfish thought and love does service reach toward the stars.

I have been traveling over the country. I have talked with salesmen—serving their houses. I have talked with big newspaper editors—serving their readers. I have talked with business men—serving those who came to buy.

But I have in mind another servant—the one who ploughs the ground prepares it for harvest and for those who come after him, and who thinks as he does it.

I have looked out of my car window and watched this ploughman and have been inspired by his service.

I think of him as I take my fruit or cereal in the morning, and as I eat my bread. This sturdy man who toils in the sun or rain, who takes the weather as it comes and makes no complaint, who is all the time thinking ahead should he not be included among such as Carlyle writes about in his book of Heroes?

In this connection I think of Cromwell, called from his plough to lead a nation through its peril; of Cin-cinnatus, and others.

There is another kind of ploughman—he who turns over new ideas, waters them, and cares for them until a world is able to appreciate them.

The ploughman's job is no easy one. Nor is the life of the pioneer attractive. He must be compensated for all his toil by the consciousness that he is building for others, who may not come along for a long, long time—and whom he may never know.

The shepherd serves the life of his sheep—and the dog delights in every evidence that he is beloved by his master. Together they make up a picture of happy service, willingly entered into.

He who serves—and who delights in his role as servant—is at once clothed with great dignity and beauty of character and worth.

Why not be a ploughman?

THE NEW CONGRESS AFTER NEXT MARCH 4th.

Last Tuesday's elections placed control of legislation by the Sixty-eighth Congress squarely in the lap of the Farm Bloc. The Administration margin in the House will be slender enough to enable the Middle Western agricultural group to hold the balance of power. In the Senate, the Republican insurgent group, kept in check solely by the Administration majority of twenty-four, will be able to swing almost any vote it pleases.

Returns on congressional contests came in slowly and the voting was so nearly even in many districts the actual status of the two major parties in the House of Representatives will not be fixed definitely for several days. There was reason to believe, however, the Republican margin would prove to be approximately fifteen. The latest return indicated certain election of 209 Republicans and 198 Democrats. The number necessary for a majority is 218.

Senator LaFollette with a hand-picked delegation of eleven House members from Wisconsin could wield a broad power there. Besides the House insurgents have many recruits from other Middle Western States.

Defeat of Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, author of the prohibition enforcement law, would give that chairmanship to a "wet." Representative Graham, of Pennsylvania, under the rule of seniority, but would not alter the aridity of the committee. Nor do the "wets" gain a seat through Volstead's defeat, his conqueror being a minister and "dry."

SENSE IN CALIFORNIA.

In California, where the voters took action on an amazing mass of literature at the polls, including thirty measures assumed to affect the public weal, at least one measure was singled out justly for defeat and quashed by a victory of reasoning minds over the utterly irrational and the illogically emotional. That was the bill which would have forbidden vivisection.

Of course, the universities and medical schools, for the sake of scientific truth and human welfare, stood out against the bill. They pointed out that if it went through, work for the control of orchard pests must stop, the battle against anthrax, hog cholera and other livestock diseases must cease, cows must not be tested to save babies from tuberculosis, smallpox vaccine and diphtheria antitoxin could not be manufactured. The lives of human beings would be set at a value less than that of guinea pigs and rabbits.

The issue has been made clear to the intelligent majority, and a smashing rebuke has been dealt the benighted medievalists who believed that they had made the sun of scientific truth stand still. The mischief of the veto on animal experimentation was realized, and medical research has received the public sanction for the public good. The object lesson of California ought not to be lost in other States, where the anti-vivisectionists, though they may not get their printed measures into the hands of voters at the polls, are forever nefariously active with the poison gas of their propaganda and their unscrupulous misrepresentation of the motives of all who oppose them.—Public Ledger.

MALES TOO DOMINANT, MRS. CATT THINKS.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, who represents America in the congress of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance to be held in Rome next spring, declared in an interview with your correspondent that Europe is backsliding under male domination after woman's brief post-war ascendancy.

A renaissance of the "marry-em-early, treat-em-rough" spirit is manifesting itself, but Mrs. Catt believes the reaction to be momentary and unimportant.

"While the world advances," she said, "just after the revolutionary period and gave women rights they had never asked, the women still do not appreciate the tide which carried them beyond their own education and desires, and it is natural they are finding the level warranted by their own self-consciousness."

She attributes the world-wide reaction against feminism also to the fact that women throughout Europe are so poverty-stricken and harassed by the struggle for food that they have no time to think of or care for their rights, and to their disillusionment over the revolutionary movements in Russia, Hungary and Germany, and over peaceable means of obtaining justice.

Mrs. Catt although believing the women's movement to be a factor in international peace, confesses that the whole international women's organization is disrupted by interstate hatreds arising from peace arrangements, with the women of the various countries unwilling to sink their own country's interests.

Mrs. Catt on her present tour is visiting and speaking in Rome, Budapest, Vienna, Berlin, Paris and London in an effort to marshal the National Committees for the Rome conference, the program of which includes ways to widen the rights of women throughout Europe and re-establish international solidarity.

WOULD FIX MARK AT 3000 TO DOLLAR.

The report of the experts who have been investigating economic conditions in Germany, Prof. Keynes, Brand, Jenks and Cassel, advocates a two years' moratorium from reparations, payments in cash or kind, and stabilization of the mark on the basis of 3000 to 3500 marks to the dollar by utilizing the Reichsbank's gold reserve. The report contends the financial problem cannot be solved unless the mark is stabilized, and that would be impossible without a moratorium.

The moratorium might need to be extended, and payments should not be resumed until Germany is able to discharge them from a real budget surplus, which the experts think may be attainable in two years. Thus stabilization would depend for success not on a foreign loan but on development of the conditions of production and final settlement of the reparations problem.

They consider their plans would be facilitated if in the meantime negotiations were started with a consortium of bankers to support stabilization by modest credits, and also that a foreign loan cannot be expected until the reparations problem is finally settled.

They point out that on the basis of 3500 marks to the dollar the Reichsbank's gold would be about twice the value of the note issue, and that this is an unprecedented situation, as no other currency has fallen into such a state, with so great a potential support unutilized.

The German proposals delivered to M. Barthou, president of the Allied Reparations Commission, although the text is withheld, are generally believed to be strongly influenced by the findings of the committee of experts.

TARR APPLICATIONS

One of the very best treatments for a stubborn case of dandruff is a tar application. Some beauty shops sell tar preparations in bottles all ready to be applied to the scalp. If you can get these you will find them convenient and not very expensive. If you cannot however, you can fix the tar for yourself.

Buy a little bit of just ordinary black sticky tar. One woman I know

When the scalp is thoroughly covered let the tar stay on for about ten minutes. Then begin to wash, using very hot water and good soap. Castile or coconut oil soap is always best and particularly good if gets it from a builder and roofer, though most drug stores will carry it in some usable form. Heat a few ounces of olive oil, as much as will almost fill the bottle you decide to use for tar. Add the tar to the hot oil and stir with a small stick until it melts and blends. I can't give you exact proportions, so much depends on the thickness or stickiness of the tar that you've bought. The result will be a black looking mass of about the consistency of thick syrup.

This should be kept and used as needed. When ready for the shampoo, pour a little tar mixture into a warm saucer and dip into it an old toothbrush. Part the hair in another place a few inches away and rub again. Do this until you have completely covered your scalp with the tar preparation. It will wash off because you have used only a small amount of tar to a large amount of olive oil. These proportions are I should say, from one eight to one quarter as much tar as oil.

melted to a liquid. Use the soap several times. Rinse well.

Bobbie—It is quite a common occurrence to have the ends of the hair dry up and split after a summer's exposure to strong sunshine. Braid the hair in many small braids and then ruff out the ends by loosening the plaits. Clip or singe these broken ends. Repeat this procedure every week until you have finally caught most of them.

STUBBORN STABLE FIRE AT STILES COMPANY CAUSES $2,000 DAMAGE

Firemen fought one of the stiffest fires they have had to combat for months, when a blaze broke out in a combined stable and ware house of the Stiles Company, on Hill street, Saturday afternoon, entailing a loss estimated at more than $2,000.

The fire started in the street in a stable on the ground floor of the building, from an unknown origin, and the flames quickly circulated in the straw in the stalls, and communicated to the mow through the hay chute. Firemen confined the flames practically entirely to the interior of the structure however, but the contents suffered worse from fire and water.

An element of danger was introduced with the fact that the stable is located adjacent to the ware house of the Standard Oil Company, on property adjoining on Hill street, and the fact that employees of the oil company were emptying a tank car of gasoline at the time the flames broke out. The tank car was quickly closed, and a Pennsylvania railroad yard engine obtained to pull it out of the danger zone.

The blaze was discovered at about 3:30 o'clock by Volcha Oglesbee, proprietor of the Oglesbee Candy and Bottling Company near-by, but had not gained much headway when discovered. The flames spread quickly in the hay, straw and dry interior of the stable, however, although two horses in the stalls were led from the building before it was entirely enveloped. Employees of the Standard Oil Company, using company fire apparatus, aided the city firemen in combating the conflagration by playing a stream of water on the burning building from their adjoining warehouse.

Sweeping through the straw in the stalls, the flames shot up the hay

chute into the mow, where a quantity of baled straw was stored. Here the flames swept all around the interior of the building, burning the interior of the weather boarding without burning clear through, but piercing the composition roof in several places. Firemen with two streams of water at second story windows, extinguished the flames there. Contents lost through fire and water included 2½ tons of hay, 35 bushels of corn, three sets of harness, one ton of baled straw, a barrel of mortar, $25 worth of special white cement, and $15 worth of Keenes special cement. A carload of cement expected a week ago did not arrive until Monday, or it would have been included in the loss.

Firemen fought the fire for two hours before it was finally under subjection, the department returning at 5:30 o'clock from the call. The loss is partially covered by insurance, the loss being principally on the contents.

Stiles BY LENORE

A smart three piece tailleur that was worn by a young woman at tea in the Ritz the other day deserves special praise for its clever use of pin tucking and pleats to give the costume character and style. Golden brown velour was used for the coat and skirt, and crepe de chine in the same color made the straight slip-on blouse; all three were trimmed with inset panels of narrow pleating used cross-wise, edge with several rows of pin tucking. As the sketch indicates, when the fur trimmed coat is removed the effect that remains is that of an elegantly slim, very good looking afternoon frock.

Before nine o'clock Monday morning five persons had called at the Greene County Red Cross Chapter in the Court House, with their tickets, dropped from the aeroplane which flew over Xenia and vicinity Saturday, and received their prizes donated to the Red Cross by Xenia merchants.

The prize winners were Blanchard Baker, of North Columbus Street, a hat, donated by the Katz and Richards Store; Walter Rountree, 14 Columbus Street, knife, donated by the Famous Auto Supply; W. P. Townsley, Cedarville, knife, donated by Babb's Hardware Store; Butler Howard, 34 Columbus Avenue, candy, donated by Clevenger Candy Shop; and Kenneth Femuels, 228 North Fair St., cap, donated by the C. A. Kelbie Store.

A number of other tickets were dropped over the county and are expected to be found within a few hours the finders to be awarded their prizes by calling at the Red Cross Headquarters.

IMPERIAL A. C. IS DEFEATED SUNDAY

The lone point represented by an after-touchdown try, was all that separated the Imperial A. C. of this city and the Wayne-Wyoming Merchants of Dayton, when the grid battle between these two teams ended at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon the visitors went home on the long end of a 7 to 6 score.

All of the scoring was done late in the game, the visitors annexing the first touchdown late in the third quarter, with Kerns carrying the ball, and the extra point was donated to the visitors when a Xenia player fouled during the attempt for the extra point. Late in the fourth period Heery picked up a partially blocked attempted drop kick on his own five yard line and ran 95 yards for Xenia's touchdown. Neville missed the attempt to add the point.

The Imperials were on the aggressive during the first half but seemed to lack the scoring punch. A 30-yard jaunt by E. Leahey in the initial quarter gave Xenia a first down on the visitor's own 13. Rachford was thrown for a five yard loss, and Leahey made four around end. Heery smashed through right guard for five, but Rachford again lost, and it was the visitor's ball on downs. Leahey shortly afterward returned one of Huber's punts to the visitor's 18. Wade circled right end for ten yards to the visitors' eight as the quarter ended.

Leahey made two, but Heery lost one. Leahey then added five and Boggan failed to gain. Dayton again taking the ball on downs. The visitors grew dangerous late in the period, and Huber attempted a drop kick from the 30 that was blocked as the half ended. A pass Huber to Oswald and Huber's run around end, gave the visitors a first down in the third quarter on the 50. Fricke and Hoffengardner made another first down, and then Fricke circled end for 80 yards being stopped by a pretty tackle by McFadden. Dayton was penalized 15 yards but a pass, Huber to Oswald picked up 20. Fricke added five to Xenia's nine. Huber made four and Fricke three and then Kerns sneaked for the touchdown. A Xenia foul gave the visitors the point.

The visitors continued to be dangerous in the fourth quarter. Fricke's 15-yard dash gave the visitors a first down on Xenia's own 18. When they were unable to make the yards, Kramer was called back to drop kick but his attempt was partly blocked. Heery snagging the oval for his touchdown jaunt. Xenia attempted a drop-kick shortly afterward from the 30 that was blocked. A pass, Kerns to Kramer for 30 yards gave the visitors the edge again, but Xenia took the ball on downs on their own 20. The game ended shortly afterward. The lineup:

The tank car was quickly closed, and a Pennsylvania railroad yard engine obtained to pull it out of the danger zone.

The blaze was discovered at about 3:30 o'clock by Volcha Oglesbee, proprietor of the Oglesbee Candy and Bottling Company near-by, but had not gained much headway when discovered. The flames spread quickly in the hay, straw and dry interior of the stable, however, although two horses in the stalls were led from the building before it was entirely enveloped. Employees of the Standard Oil Company, using company fire apparatus, aided the city firemen in combating the conflagration by playing a stream of water on the burning building from their adjoining warehouse.

Sweeping through the straw in the stalls, the flames shot up the hay

chute into the mow, where a quantity of baled straw was stored. Here the flames swept all around the interior of the building, burning the interior of the weather boarding without burning clear through, but piercing the composition roof in several places. Firemen with two streams of water at second story windows, extinguished the flames there. Contents lost through fire and water included 2½ tons of hay, 35 bushels of corn, three sets of harness, one ton of baled straw, a barrel of mortar color, $25 worth of special white cement and $15 worth of Keenes' special cement. A carload of cement expected a week ago did not arrive until Monday, or it would have been included in the loss.

Firemen fought the fire for two hours before it was finally under subjection, the department returning at 5:30 o'clock from the call. The loss is partially covered by insurance, the loss being principally on the contents.

Stiles BY LENORE

A smart three piece tailor that was worn by a young woman at tea in the Ritz the other day deserves special praise for its clever use of pin tucking and pleats to give the costume character and style. Golden brown velour was used for the coat and skirt, and crepe de chine in the same color made the straight slip-on blouse; all three were trimmed with inset panels of narrow pleating used cross-wise, edge with several rows of pin tucking. As the sketch indicates, when the fur trimmed coat is removed the effect that remains is that of an elegantly slim, very good looking afternoon frock.

IMPERIAL A. C. IS DEFEATED SUNDAY

The lone point represented by an after-touchdown try, was all that separated the Imperial A. C. of this city and the Wayne-Wyoming Merchants of Dayton, when the grid battle between these two teams ended at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon. The visitors went home on the long end of a 7 to 6 score.

All of the scoring was done late in the game, the visitors annexing the first touchdown late in the third quarter, with Kerns carrying the ball, and the extra point was donated to the visitors when a Xenia player fouled during the attempt for the extra point. Late in the fourth period Heery picked up a partially blocked attempted drop kick on his own five yard line and ran 95 yards for Xenia's touchdown. Neville missed the attempt to add the point.

The Imperials were on the aggressive during the first half but seemed to lack the scoring punch. A 30-yard jaunt by E. Leahey in the initial quarter gave Xenia a first down on the visitor's own 13. Rachford was thrown for a five yard loss, and Leahey made four around end. Heery smashed through right guard for five, but Rachford again lost, and it was the visitor's ball on downs. Leahey shortly afterward returned one of Huber's punts to the visitor's 13. Wade circled right end for ten yards to the visitors' eight as the quarter ended.

Leahey made two, but Heery lost one. Leahey then added five and Boggan failed to gain. Dayton again taking the ball on downs. The visitors grew dangerous late in the period, and Huber attempted a drop kick from the 30 that was blocked as the half ended. A pass Huber to Oswald and Huber's run around end, gave the visitors a first down in the third quarter on the 50. Fricke and Hoffengardner made another first down, and then Fricke circled end for 80 yards being stopped by a pretty tackle by McFadden. Dayton was penalized 15 yards but a pass. Huber to Oswald picked up 20. Fricke added five to Xenia's nine. Huber made four and Fricke three and then Kerns sneaked for the touchdown. A Xenia foul gave the visitors the point.

The visitors continued to be dangerous in the fourth quarter. Fricke's 15-yard dash gave the visitors a first down on Xenia's own 18. When they were unable to make the yards, Kramer was called back to drop kick but his attempt was partly blocked. Heery snagging the oval for his touchdown jaunt. Xenia attempted a drop-kick shortly afterward from the 30 that was blocked. A pass, Kerns to Kramer for 30 yards gave the visitors the edge again, but Xenia took the ball on downs on their own 20. The game ended shortly afterward. The lineup:

HEART TROUBLE IS FATAL TO WILLIAM H. LONG OF XENIA

William H. Long, 40, well-known resident of Greene County, died suddenly while in bed at his home, 327 East Market Street, sometime Sunday night.

His death was discovered by his mother, Mrs. J. W. Fudge, when she attempted to call him Monday morning at six o'clock as was her usual custom. When she got no response she found that he was dead. Dr. A. D. DeHaven, who was called immediately, said that death had taken place several hours before. It was due to heart trouble.

Mr. Long had been in his usual good health when he retired Sunday night. He had been working all day, and had not returned home until 9:30 o'clock. He immediately retired and death evidently came without warning three or four hours before his mother attempted to waken him.

Mr. Long was born in New Jasper Township, August 16, 1882. His father, Henry C. Long, died 17 years ago, next November 19, under similar circumstances, death also being due to heart trouble. Mr. Long remained on the farm until seven years ago when he came to this city and took a position as salesman for the Standard Oil Company. A year later he returned to the farm, but then again returned to this city and was employed by the Columbus Oil Company. Later he was made manager of the Refiners Oil Company in this city, and later became salesman for the Xenia Oil Company. He continued with that company when it was taken over by the Paragon Refining Company and was salesman for the latter concern at the time of his death. His business trips through the county gave him a wide acquaintanceship and he possessed a host of friends.

Mr. Long was a member of Trinity M. E. Church and of Xenia Lodge, No. 668, B. P. O. Elks. He is survived by his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fudge, and by one brother, T. C. Long, Xenia real estate man.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at the residence, 327 East Market Street, and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call at the home between six and nine o'clock Tuesday evening.

cripples in the county was made by the nurse and the Red Cross, with the Rotary Club, held a clinic for crippled children. A Tonsil and Adenoid clinic was held in October when 41 children were operated on. The American Legion gave the use of their rooms. This saved over $1,500 through the splendid co-operation of the doctors and nurses.

"The work that is now being done by the Red Cross in Greene County is not generally known and appreciated as it should be. Twenty years ago now Greene County will still be receiving benefits from the work done by the Red Cross during the last year. The Red Cross co-operates and works in harmony with all other benevolent associations and should have the loyal support of everyone."

Endorsement of County Red Cross is Given

The sixth Annual Red Cross Roll Call in Greene County now under way has called forth recommendations from prominent citizens of the city and county, who in statements listed below outline reasons why the Red Cross should be supported in this county.

Providing the initial impetus to start the movement, the Rev. Wm. H. Tifford, County Chairman, urges public support of the organization, and points out some of the work contemplated for the coming year and what will be necessary to see it consummated.

"A schedule is being worked out so that every township in the county will have the available time of the nurse and investigator regularly every month or so," says Mr. Tifford. "Cases of needy families are being investigated and assisted continually. The school inspection clinic points out the cases and the investigators, nurse and secretary spend long hours on the road in helping the parents to correct the defects. The Red Cross needs for its entire county and city four thousand dollars. If the Red Cross can get 6,000 members at a dollar or more, they will go over the top. Committees have been appointed throughout the county and everybody will be seen on November 14 or as near as possible to that day. No one can do less than become a member of such a great organization, which not only does a matchless work in the county, but is connected in a national way with all emergency enterprises throughout the world."

Dr. Patterson, former chairman of the County Red Cross, says: "Never before has our local Red Cross had a brighter prospect for usefulness ahead of it. There are several reasons why the Red Cross should be permanently maintained in our County. Briefly they are these: (1) The care of the ex-service men; (2) The health work among all the people; (3) The county-wide extent of its work; (4) The need to be ready in a national or other emergency; (5) Our duty to help support a great society that is doing relief work all over the world."

President Arthur E. Morgan, of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, who was in charge of the Conservancy work at Dayton, recently said of the Red Cross and passed the word on to Greene County Chapter: "In one respect the Red Cross is like fire insurance—an expense when we don't need it, but of vital importance when we do. But it is not only in time of great public calamity that the Red Cross does its work. The misfortune which befalls a single family is as tragic to that family as though a whole city were involved, and to such families the Red Cross comes with help. The Red Cross is democratic. It is a way by which the whole community carries the community burdens. We tend to get into the habit of condemning large fortunes, but of letting men of great wealth carry the whole load of social relief. A community which will not bear its own social load through such channels as the Red Cross scarcely deserves the name of a Democracy."

Superintendent C. A. Waltz, of the City Schools says: "Now that you are in a campaign to increase the effectiveness of the Red Cross in our community it gives me great satisfaction to say that your organization has rendered a highly satisfactory and acceptable service in the Xenia city schools. We feel that the services rendered to the schools alone by the Red Cross are of such value that this community can well afford to give liberally for the continuance of the great work the organization is doing."

(Signed) C. A. Waltz.

Mr. H. C. Aultman, County Superintendent of Schools says: "Reports show that 1300 children in Greene County have been inspected by the Red Cross and much good has resulted therefrom. Corrective work has followed in many cases, thus raising the standard of school work and increasing the health conditions in general. This organization is still needed and should receive all financial and moral support that we can afford to give."

Infant welfare work has been particularly successful through the Nurse's co-operation and many young mothers assisted.

One hundred and forty-eight children under six years of age were examined, measured and weighed at a clinic held at Xenia, in the County Court room.

Several other county-wide clinics were held last year. A survey of all

Dr. McChesney, of Cedarville College, who knows the work of the Red Cross, says: "When one reviews the great work which the Red Cross Society has accomplished at home and abroad, he realizes that this organization is essential to the welfare of humanity. One of the least things that Greene County can do, as well as one of the best, is to respond to the present call of the Red Cross, with the most liberal contribution that it has ever made. The work is worthy. The need is appalling. Our citizens have means, and it is our duty and should be considered our privilege, to respond heartily."

Jacob Colp, Commander of Joseph P. Foody Post American Legion, says: "I am glad of this opportunity to say that the Red Cross means much to every ex-soldier. Our organization heartily endorses the splendid work of our local chapter which has never failed to go the limit to help ex-service men when in need."

Attorney Charles L. Darlington, past Commander of the Ohio American Legion, adds his recommendation to that of other Legion officials: "It gives me great pleasure to speak a good word for the Red Cross nationally. The Red Cross needs no introduction to the soldiers of America. There are many ways in which the Red Cross can help the ex-service men. This work is very far from being at an end. The Red Cross is glad to do this work and does it without any charge to the ex-service men and their families."

Father Burke of St. Brigid's Catholic Church of Xenia, says: "In response to yours for an endorsement of the Red Cross, I will say that I am not familiar with the details of Red Cross work in Greene County. However, if I am to judge from the cases that have come directly under my notice, I cannot fail to say a word of approval and bespeak for the Red Cross the generous support of the people of this community."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

For Chronic Coughs

When a cold clings stubbornly you should resort to a constitutional remedy such as our Guaiasote.

This remedy has a specific action on the cells and tissues of the air passages. It will relieve serious lung troubles which ordinary remedies fail to reach.

Endorsement of County Red Cross is Given

The sixth Annual Red Cross Roll Call in Greene County now under way has called forth recommendations from prominent citizens of the city and county, who in statements listed below outline reasons why the Red Cross should be supported in this county.

Providing the initial impetus to start the movement, the Rev. Wm. H. Tilford, County Chairman, urges public support of the organization, and points out some of the work contemplated for the coming year and what will be necessary to see it consummated.

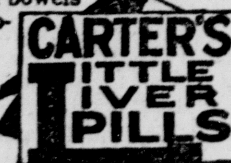

"A schedule is being worked out so that every township in the county will have the available time of the nurse and investigator regularly every month or so," says Mr. Tilford. "Cases of needy families are being investigated and assisted continually. The school inspection clinic points out the cases and the investigators, nurse and secretary spend long hours on the road in helping the parents to correct the defects. The Red Cross needs for its entire county and city work four thousand dollars. If the Red Cross can get 6,000 members at a dollar or more, they will go over the top. Committees have been appointed throughout the county and everybody will be seen on November 14 or as near as possible to that day. No one can do less than become a member of such a great organization, which not only does a matchless work in the county, but is co-necessary in a national way with all emergency enterprises throughout the world."

Dr. Patterson, former chairman of the County Red Cross, says: "Never before has our local Red Cross had a brighter prospect for usefulness ahead of it. There are several reasons why the Red Cross should be permanently maintained in our County. Briefly they are these: (1) The care of the ex-service men; (2) The health work among all two people; (3) The county-wide extent of its work; (4) The need to be ready in a national or other emergency; (5) Our duty to help support a great society that is doing relief work all over the world."

President Arthur E. Morgan, of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, who was in charge of the Conservancy work at Dayton, recently said of the Red Cross and passed the word on to Greene County Chapter: "In one respect the Red Cross is

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BUT WOUND IS NOT THOUGHT SERIOUS

Lawrence Parker, of Columbus, formerly of this city, was shot in the left arm, but not seriously injured when a revolver in the hands of his brother, John Parker of Washington C. H., was accidentally discharged Saturday evening.

The bullet passed through the arm between the wrist and elbow, and although the wound is not thought to be serious the injured man is still under the care of a physician in Washington, which is his original home.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker were on their way to this city from Columbus by automobile to spend the week end with Mrs. Parker's sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Allen, 252 South West Street, when the accident happened. Mr. and Mrs. Parker had stepped in Washington C. H. for a visit with the former's mother and brother, and his brother was showing him the gun when it was accidentally exploded. Mrs. Parker remained in Washington with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker made their home here until about a year ago when they moved to Columbus.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells. This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-prone. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a pesky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

Attorney Charles L. Darlington, past Commander of the Ohio American Legion, adds his recommendation to that of other Legion officials: "It gives me great pleasure to speak a good word for the Red Cross nationally. The Red Cross needs no introduction to the soldiers of America. There are many ways in which the Red Cross can help the ex-service men. This work is very far from being at an end. The Red Cross is glad to do this work and does it without any charge to the ex-service men and their families." (Signed) Charles L. Darlington.

Father Burke of St. Brigid's Catholic Church of Xenia, says: "In response to yours for an endorsement of the Red Cross, I will say that I am not familiar with the details of Red Cross work in Greene County. However, if I am to judge

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

For Chronic Coughs

When a cold clings stubbornly you should resort to a constitutional remedy such as our Guaiasote.

This remedy has a specific action on the cells and tissues of the air passages. It will relieve serious lung troubles which ordinary remedies fail to reach.

WOMAN DEEP-SEA DIVER TO SALVAGE TREASURE.

Mrs. Margaret C. Goodman

Mrs. Margaret Campbell Goodman, of New York, known among men as "Captain Margaret," is only four feet five inches tall and weighs only 119 pounds, but this is no handicap for her. Several years ago she astonished Great Lakes divers by salvaging the cargo of the steamer Pawnee, sunk in Lake Michigan, off Thunder Bay in 1865. She is now arranging to raise the three-masted schooner New Brunswick, sunk in Lake Erie in 1859.

FIND RATES CHEAPER FOR FOREIGN GOODS

Washington, Nov. 13.—Concluding an investigation of preferential transportation rates the U. S. Tariff Commission today announced that the freight charges from ports to interior points are lower in some cases for imported commodities than for similar domestic traffic.

The principal ports in this country from such rates apply according to the commission are the South Atlantic Gulf and Pacific ports. The conclusion was reached, however that while it is evident that preferential rates do exist, the carriers have established such rates primarily for the purpose of equalizing the commercial advantage of the rival ports of the alternative routes over which the foreign trade is carried, rather than an attempt to offset in whole or in part the duties imposed by the customs tariff.

OBSERVE RED CROSS SUNDAY IN UNION CHURCH SERVICES

An audience that filled the auditorium of the First M. E. Church, representing every church of the city, observed "Red Cross" Sunday, Sunday evening, in connection with the Sixth Annual Red Cross Roll Call Drive to be staged by the Greene County Red Cross Chapter this week.

The Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church, presided over the meeting, and introduced the four "minute men," speakers of the evening, who told of the work of the organization. In introducing the speakers, the Rev. Mr. Scott recommended the work of the Red Cross, stating that the organization symbolized ideals which every community should have. Miss Louise B. Shaffer, executive secretary of the Red Cross, was the first speaker on the program of the evening, giving data on the work of the county chapter of the Red Cross, with the ex-soldiers and explaining the functioning of the Red Cross in cutting "red tape" in order to secure government recognition for the veterans. Miss Shaffer cited examples of soldiers aided in Xenia and Greene County that had been aided by the Red Cross in speaking of the method of the organization. Each of the speakers of the evening, gave an eight minute address. The Rev. E. W. Middleton county chairman of the Red Cross drive, spoke next, emphasizing the greatness of the Red Cross, and the need for the aid of the public in the coming campaign. "The Red Cross really functions," said the Rev. Mr. Tilford, "and gets some place in making worth-while future citizens."

The paramount duties and responsibilities of the Red Cross at present, in connection with its work with the ex-soldiers was the subject taken for the short talk of the Rev. William H. Tilford, county chairman of the Red Cross the last speaker. The Rev. Mr. Tilford dealt with the nursing service of the County Chapter explaining that this work of the organization was divided with the Social Service League.

At close of his address the Rev. Mr. Tilford, made a stirring appeal for support in the coming drive, which was received enthusiastically. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of one of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me" as the Biblical quotation adopted by the Rev. Tilford in appealing for support, applying Christ's saying to the fact that the individual who cooperated with the Red Cross in its splendid work would be blessed.

The Rev. Mr. Tilford issued a statement Monday, dealing with the division of moneys received by the Red Cross in the drive. The explanation as given by the County chairman is: "There are a number of types of membership in the Red Cross, $1 is the minimum and sky the limit, $10, $15, $25, $50, or $100. Any members who so desired, can designate that the amount be used entirely by the county chapter and all of the money will remain in Greene County.

"Only 50 cents on any type of membership goes in support of the National organization for all its great relief enterprises," the Rev. Tilford explained. "If one gives $10, $25, or the gift stays in Xenia and Greene County, or if one desires the entire $10.00 will stay in Xenia. The Red Cross is independent of other organizations and cooperates, never duplicates, and renders efficient service to all."

FESS TO LEAD FIGHT FOR NEW AMENDMENT

Washington, November 13.—The National Women's Party is planning an active campaign for support of Senators and Representatives of their proposed blanket bill amendment to the Constitution, leaders of the organization have announced.

Senator-elect Simeon D. Fess has promised to introduce the bill when he returns to Washington. As he now is a member of the House, the measure first will be taken up there, and when he is transferred to the Senate he will lead the fight there for "the removal of all discriminatory law against women from the statute books."

Women's Party leaders declare the elections were very pleasing to them, and that their two most active supporters, Senator La Follette and Representative Fess, were endorsed by voters Tuesday.

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

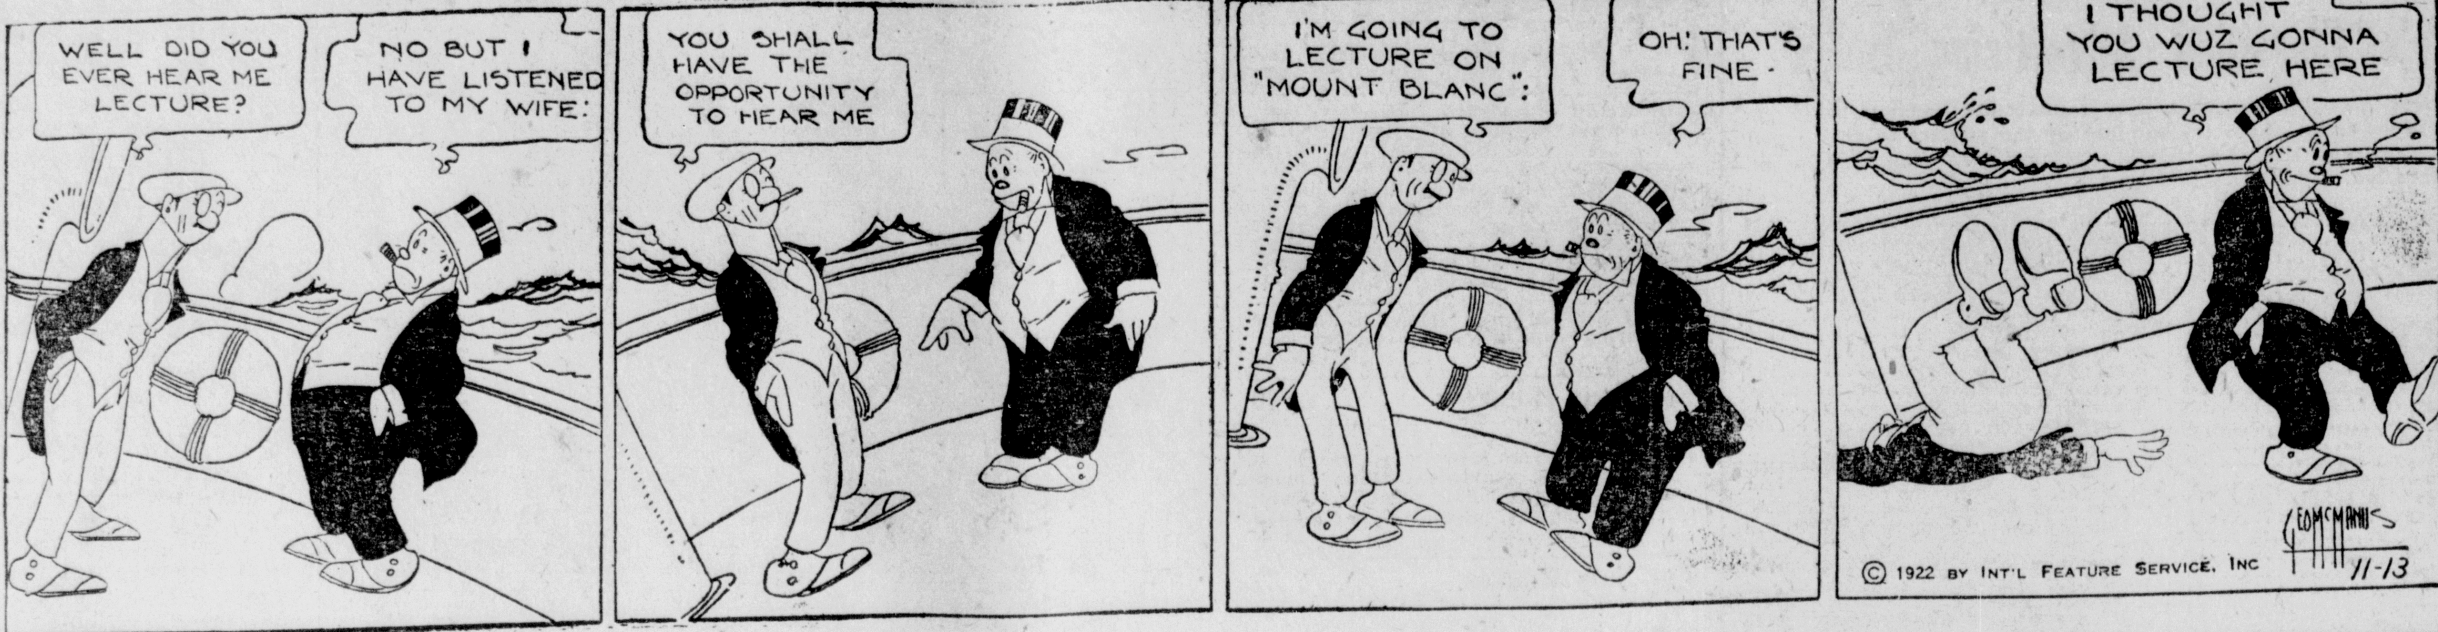

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lower parts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. PHIL. MASER, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away—one after another.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

CAR ACCIDENT IN DAYTON IS SHOCK TO LOCAL STUDENT

Nelson Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Barnes of this city, was rendered unconscious and taken to Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, when the Dayton & Xenia traction car on which he was a passenger was struck by a moving van at Wyoming street, Dayton, Sunday night.

Barnes was rendered unconscious by shock and an examination at the hospital showed that he was not otherwise injured. He was unconscious two hours. The Xenian was on his way to Dayton on the car leaving here at ten o'clock, with the intention of resuming his studies at Miami-Jacobs Business College Monday morning.

The accident was caused when a Beavertown auto bus struck a moving van, knocking the heavy van into the interurban car. Both machines were badly damaged, and several passengers on the car were slightly injured. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were notified and went to Dayton, finding their son had regained consciousness and was apparently not seriously hurt.

The traction car was in charge of Conductor Bert. Lemon and Motor-man Carl Andrews.

Efficient Housekeeping

"JUST HOW" TO MAKE HOT CHOCOLATE

Even the least experienced housekeeper can make good cocoa; all she need do is follow the directions on the can. But when it comes to making hot chocolate—many an old housekeeper has failed at this art.

For it is an art. There is a decided knack required in adding the boiling water to the melted cake-chocolate so that a smooth paste results. But for the sake of beginner-housekeepers, I am going to tell "just how" to make this beverage, starting at the very first step of the process.

To Make Four Cups of Hot Chocolate: Take from your pan-cupboard a medium-sized double boiler and a small saucepan. Put boiling water into the lower part of the double boiler and one and one-half cups of sweet milk in the upper part, then set this to cook, covered until the milk is scalded.

In the saucepan, melt one-third of a square of unsweetened cake-chocolate. Do this over a low, direct flame (or on a coal range), stirring steadily until it is entirely melted. The next step is to stir into this melted chocolate a pinch of salt, one and one-third cups of granulated sugar and then, gradually one-half cup of boiling water. This is the critical stage of the process—as I have said before. If you add the water gradually enough, stirring gently as you add it, you should have a smooth paste. If, however, you do not add it gradually enough, your chocolate is apt to separate into tiny particles—and your hot chocolate will not be a smooth creamy beverage when done. Of course the mixture should be allowed to boil up at this stage, until it is smooth.

When you have added the half cup of hot water slowly, as above directed and allowed the mixture to boil for a few minutes, until it is smooth and

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

Synopsis of Proceeding Chapters Doreen is the wife of Walter Page, an artist. The later evinces much interest in his model, Helen Ralstrom. He purchases a runabout, selected by Helen, who accompanies him riding more often than does his wife. While Page's mother is paying him and Doreen a visit, Walter carries Miss Ralstrom into his home at night, the victim of a motor accident. The elder Mrs. Page sends her home in an ambulance. This attitude wins Doreen over to her mother in law whom she, heretofore, had considered cold and proud, difficult to get along with.

Grace Harter and Doreen chance on Helen and Walter dining at a road house together. Doreen's self-possession disturbs Miss Ralstrom's equilibrium. Doreen is rich enough for ordinary, every-day use on the home table. But for a guest meal there is no more delicious beverage than hot chocolate. And, of course, if the housewife can afford whipped cream (sweetened flavored with a few drops of vanilla extract), for the top of her served hot chocolate, she may have the satisfaction of knowing that she has added the final touch of daintiness to her menu.

Cocoa is rich enough for ordinary, every-day use on the home table. But for a guest meal there is no more delicious beverage than hot chocolate. And, of course, if the housewife can afford whipped cream (sweetened flavored with a few drops of vanilla extract), for the top of her served hot chocolate, she may have the satisfaction of knowing that she has added the final touch of daintiness to her menu.

FIDO, THE SUBJECT OF MUCH DISCUSSION.

The absurd devotion Mrs. Page showed Fido, rather the silly fuss she made over him, disgusted me. Then the name! Whoever heard of calling a pomeranian Fido? It was ridiculous! That little mite, not much more than a bark and a tail, given the name naturally associated with other breeds seemed to increase my dislike for him. I did not fear him—as I usually did any dog—but he annoyed me, almost as much as he did Jennie. When one is not accustomed to an animal in the house, especially in a small apartment, nerves are rasped in spite of all desire to be sensible and kind.

Mrs. Page knew I did not like Fido, and resented it. When in my presence she seemed to take delight in calling him names, kissing him, "mushing over him" Walter called it. At times it disgusted me so that I had to leave the room for fear I should say something to offend Walter's mother; something I had determined not to do.

But Jennie was hard to handle. Often she repeated her remark, made when Mrs. Page first came:

"I ain't never cooked and waited on no dog, and I ain't goin' to now!" Then for half an hour perhaps I would plead with her to "be good" for my sake, telling her Mrs. Page wouldn't be with us long, to try and be patient.

I also had increased her wages on the dog's account. But I think my own dislike of the dog in the house, the knowledge that I tried to be patient, had more to do with her staying than anything I said or did.

"I guess if you can stand it I can!" she said after one of my talks to her, "but I never thought I'd come to waitin' on a dog. And such a dog! If he was a nice big one, what was any good if burglars come, it would be different. But that dog ain't good for nothin'. They could steal everything in the house and he wouldn't even bark."

Claire knew of Jennie's antagonism toward the dog. She loved dogs and laughed at us.

"Just forget it is in the house," she said.

"Forget it!" I returned "when it's 'darling, mother's sweet precious,' all the time. If people have to cuddle something, why don't they take some poor little motherless baby and cuddle that?"

"Poor Doreen," Claire mocked. "Be glad she has the dog. He keeps her busy often when if it weren't for him she might make things even more disagreeable."

That was so. Often she failed to reprove me, to show her dislike to some thing I said or did because she was too busy petting Fido to pay attention.

I told her of Mrs. Eldridge, of her sweet patience, her delight in our visit.

"She must be a very lovable character," Mrs. Page said, then surprised me—as she often did—by adding: "I should like to go with you if you call on her again."

"That would be delightful!" I replied. "I am sure she would be flattered, and that Claire would be pleased to take you."

"Miss Gordon is a charming woman. I wish I could say as much for some of your other friends. You should be more careful in selecting your associates. A man or woman are judged by the company they keep."

Oh, why did she always have to spoil everything? I wondered. I had been pleased that she wanted to see Mrs. Eldridge, that she had spoken so nicely of Claire. But she couldn't let it go at that, she had to rap someone and take away all my good feeling.

"Now that Mr. and Mrs. Harter, she went on, "they are to my mind very unsuitable companions for you, and—"

"You remember I told you Grace Harter was Walter's friend long before I knew him. He is very fond of her, and likes George also." I interrupted impolitely. "It would look strange if I refused to be on good terms with my husband's friends."

"Women with sharp tongues often make trouble," she replied, sententiously. She never liked it when I involved Walter in anything for which she blamed me.

The Great Bell of Atri

THE village of Atri had a great bell that was rung only in time of need. For years it had been unused, for Atri was prosperous and content. Its rope, covered with green vines, trailed the ground. One day a starving horse, turned out to shift for himself, seized the fresh, green tendrils in his teeth. The bell above him began to ring, attention was called to the predicament of the poor beast, and he became a well-fed ward of the town.

OBSERVE RED CROSS
SUNDAY IN UNION
CHURCH SERVICES

An audience that filled the auditorium of the First M. E. Church, representing every church of the city, observed "Red Cross" Sunday. Sunday evening, in connection with the Sixth Annual Red Cross Roll Call Drive to be staged by the Greene County Red Cross Chapter this week.

The Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church, presided over the meeting, and introduced the four "minute men," speakers of the evening, who told of the work of the organization. In introducing the speakers, the Rev. Mr. Scott recommended the work of the Red Cross, stating that the organization symbolized ideals which every community should have. Miss Louise B. Shaffer, executive secretary of the Red Cross, was the first speaker on the program of the evening, giving data on the work of the county chapter of the Red Cross, with the ex-soldiers and explaining the functioning of the Red Cross in cutting "red tape" in order to secure government recognition for the veterans. Miss Shaffer cited examples of soldiers aided in Xenia and Greene County that had been aided by the Red Cross in speaking of the method of the organization. Each of the speakers of the evening, gave an eight minute address. The Rev. E. W. Middleton, county chairman of the Red Cross drive, spoke next, emphasizing the greatness of the Red Cross, and the need for the aid of the public in the coming campaign. "The Red Cross really functions," said the Rev. Mr. Telford, "and gets some place in making worth-while future citizens."

The paramount duties and responsibilities of the Red Cross at present, in connection with its work with the ex-soldiers was the subject taken for the short talk of the Rev. William H. Telford, county chairman of the Red Cross the last speaker. The Rev. Mr. Telford dealt with the nursing service of the County Chapter explaining that this work of the organization was divided with the Social Service League.

At close of his address the Rev. Mr. Telford, made a stirring appeal for support in the coming drive, which was received enthusiastically. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of one of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me" as the Biblical quotation adopted by the Rev. Telford in appealing for support, applying Christ's saying to the fact that the individual who cooperated with the Red Cross in its splendid work would be blessed.

The Rev. Mr. Telford issued a statement Monday, dealing with the division of moneys received by the Red Cross in the drive. The explanation as given by the County chairman is: "There are a number of types of membership in the Red Cross. $1 is the minimum and sky the limit. $10, $15, $25, $50, or $100. Any members who so desired, can designate that the amount be used entirely by the county chapter and all of the money will remain in Greene County."

"Only 50 cents on any type of membership goes in support of the National organization for all its great relief enterprises," the Rev. Telford explained. "If one gives $10, $9.50 of the gift stays in Xenia and Greene County, or if one desires the entire $10.00 will stay in Xenia. The Red Cross is independent of other organizations and cooperates, never duplicates, and renders efficient service to all."

FESS TO LEAD FIGHT FOR NEW AMENDMENT

Washington, November 13.—The National Women's Party is planning an active campaign for support of Senators and Representatives of their proposed blanket bill amendment to the Constitution, leaders of the organization have announced.

Senator-elect Simeon D. Fess has promised to introduce the bill when he returns to Washington. As he now is a member of the House, the measure first will be taken up there, and when he is transferred to the Senate he will lead the fight there for "the removal of all discriminatory law against women from the statute books."

Women's Party leaders declare the elections were very pleasing to them, and that their two most active supporters, Senator La Follette and Representative Fess, were endorsed by voters Tuesday.

CAR ACCIDENT IN
DAYTON IS SHOCK
TO LOCAL STUDENT

Nelson Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Barnes of this city, was rendered unconscious and taken to Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, when the Dayton & Xenia traction car on which he was a passenger was struck by a moving van at Wyoming street, Dayton, Sunday night.

Barnes was rendered unconscious by shock and an examination at the hospital showed that he was not otherwise injured. He was unconscious two hours. The Xenian was on his way to Dayton on the car leaving here at ten o'clock, with the intention of resuming his studies at Miami-Jacobs Business College Monday morning.

The accident was caused when a Beavertown auto bus struck a moving van, knocking the heavy van into the interurban car. Both machines were badly damaged, and several passengers on the car were slightly injured. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were notified and went to Dayton, finding their son had regained consciousness and was apparently not seriously hurt.

The traction car was in charge of Conductor Bert Lemon and Motor-man Carl Andrews.

Efficient
Housekeeping
By Laura A. Kirkman

"JUST HOW" TO MAKE HOT CHOCOLATE

Even the least experienced housekeeper can make good cocoa; all she need do is follow the directions on the can. But when it comes to making hot chocolate—many an old housekeeper has failed at this art.

For it is an art. There is a decided knack required in adding the boiling water to the melted cake-chocolate so that a smooth paste results.

But for the sake of beginner-housekeepers, I am going to tell "just how" to make this beverage, starting at the very first step of the process.

To Make Four Cups of Hot Chocolate:

Take from your pan-cupboard a medium-sized double boiler and a small saucepan. Put boiling water into the lower part of the double boiler and one and one-half cups of sweet milk in the upper part, then set this to cook, covered until the milk is scalded.

In the saucepan, melt one-third of a square of unsweetened cake-chocolate. Do this over a low, direct flame (or on a coal range), stirring steadily until it is entirely melted. The next step is to stir into this melted chocolate a pinch of salt, one and one-third cups of granulated sugar and then, gradually one-half cup of boiling water. This is the critical stage of the process—as I have said before.

If you add the water gradually enough, stirring gently as you add it, you should have a smooth paste. If, however, you do not add it gradually enough, your chocolate is apt to separate into tiny particles—and your hot chocolate will not be a smooth creamy beverage when done. Of course the mixture should be allowed to boil up at this stage, until it is smooth.

When you have added the half cup of hot water slowly, as above directed and allowed the mixture to boil for a few minutes, until it is smooth and glossy, it is time to add this glossy chocolate-mixture to the scalded milk which is in the top of the double boiler. This, too, should be done slowly, stirring constantly; then the cover of the double boiler should be once more put on and the hot chocolate allowed to cook until the lunch-hour or supper hour. Just before serving, put an egg-beater of the wheel type into the upper part of the double boiler and beat the hot chocolate very hard for three or four minutes. This final beating makes it frothy and creamy, and will prevent skin forming on it (this is also true of cocoa. This final beating is called "milling" the chocolate.)

Cocoa is rich enough for ordinary, every-day use on the home table. But for a guest meal there is no more delicious beverage than hot chocolate. And, of course, if the housewife can afford whipped cream (sweetened with a few drops of vanilla extract), for the top of her served hot chocolate, she may have the satisfaction of knowing that she has added the final touch of daintiness to her menu.

CHAPTERS FROM A WOMAN'S LIFE

BY JANE PHELPS

Synopsis of Proceeding Chapters
Doreen is the wife of Walter Page, an artist. The later evinces much interest in his model, Helen Ralstrom. He purchases a runabout, selected by Helen, who accompanies him riding more often than does his wife. While Page's mother is paying him and Doreen a visit Walter carries Miss Ralstrom into his home at night, the victim of a motor accident. The elder Mrs. Page sends her home in an ambulance. This attitude wins Doreen over to her mother in law whom she, heretofore, had considered cold and proud, difficult to get along with.

Grace Harter and Doreen chance on Helen and Walter dining at a road house together. Doreen's self-possession disturbs Miss Ralstrom's equilibrium.
